Bristol Central students receive Arts Awards

Two students from Bristol Central High School have received Arts Awards from the Connecticut Association of Schools (CAS), Principal Martin Semmel announced.

Jocelyn Brown, daughter of Ms. Cyndi Chauvin, and Jonathan Donovan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Donovan were designated by the school to receive this honor, which was given at a statewide awards banquet held on April 8 at the Aqua Turf Club, Southington.

The CAS Arts Recognition Awards, inaugurated in 1995, recognizes annually two seniors in each of the high schools for outstanding ability in the performing or visual arts. Two hundred sixty-six students from 134 high schools received awards this year.

William Thomson, a successful illustrator and artist, was the featured speaker. During his remarks, Thomson shared with the audience his creative process of moving from idea to finished illustration. He uses photographs taken around Connecticut and even of his own family to reference his drawings.
